Probably none of Mr. Russell's friends gave him more hearty welcome on his return to Clifton, than Mr. John Naismith. RUFFIANLY ASSAULT.

Y. C. Beldwell Makes an Attack Upon J. T. Fitzgerald, the Clarion's Presentt Correspondent -His Act Universally Condemned.

PRESCOTT, ARIZ., Feb. 24, 1885. The bulldozing tactics relied on by the promoters of the Sierra Bonita scheme to advance their interests, were again exemplified yesterday morning by a cowardly and uncalled for assault made upon J. T. Fitzgerald by M. W. Stewart's man, W. C. Bridwell, as he now calls himself, although he has had several other names since he resided in Arizona.

The Crapton is circulated in Frank Barnum this week pur- Prescott Monday morning, and more generally sought after or more eagerly read than it is. Its articles general, and those on the subject of county division especialbreed of poultry can secure pure ly, have been considered fair, and for my own part, I think you have gether too gently. However, everyone does not think alike, and the Hon. (?) W. C. B. took serious offence at some comments made in the CLARION of the 18th inst., and proceeded to vent his spleen on Mr. J. T. Fitzgerald, vour Prescott correspondent. Fitzgerald was conversing with a friend when Bridwell advanced upon him, and after ostentiously showing he was armed, began a tirade of abuse, which was ended by his striking him. The latter, being unarmed, was prevented by his friends from making any demonstration, while his assailant swaggered off, feel ing that he had established his title as a valiant of the first order.

He reached the ground, and in an instant there was a loud report, and his body, mixed in with a mass of broken rock and rubbish, was hurled into the air a distance of thirty feet or more, falling about thirty-eight feet from the point where he stood at the time the blast went off. It was marvelous pieces of broken rock, some of fell all around him. He received a terrible shaking up, severe internal injuries and his face and body is much cut up by small sized pieces of rock falling upon him.

Our advices from Morenci yesterday were to the effect that while suffering considerable pain he was getting on as well as could be expected, and that he will recover. The Mexican was knocked down and somewhat bruised but not seriously.

PRESCOTE, ARIZ., Fobruary 21, 1885. Since my last report only a few minor bills have become laws, and these were mostly amendments to old laws. The principal bills of the session appear to be slumbering in the hands of committees. The bill creating and prescribing the duties of Commissioner of Immigration, the Insane Asylum bill, and the bill appropriating $3,600 to carry on the Exhibition at New Orleans, all of which have passed the House, have been in charge of committees of the Council for over a week.

The bill regulating fees of county officials created the hottest dis cussion of the session in the Coun cil this week. Hon. Tom Weedin wished to amend by exempting Gila and Pinal counties from its provisions, which was opposed by C. C. Stephens, who assailed the lobby in strong terms. The original finally passed the Council, but will have the weight of a strong lobby of county officials to defeat it in the House, as it effects all of these gentlemen to a great extent in a financial way.

The new county scheme is little heard of now, and if the bill is introduced it will likely be the last week of the session. When inter rogated as to when the bill would be introduced, Councilman Bridwell said he did not know as it would be introduced at all. Fred. Hughes, of Tucson, who is here on a salary to lobby in Sierra Bonita's behalf, is kicking at not re ceiving the same, and threatens to go home.

Judge Sias keeps an open house at all hours, and is one of the most fences. The ducks often fly low, popular members here. In legislative circles he is looked upon as an able representative of the people, and his record will be one that no man need be ashamed of.

No change has been noticed in W. C. Bridwell's actions sufficient to warrant the saying that he is improving his record. He exposed his ignorance in the start to such an extent as to ruin him forever.

M. J. Egan is still here and Montezuma mine last Thursday, the Capital. He keeps himself well posted on matters of railroad legislation and does not belong to that class that is likely to overlook a point.
